ATHENS CALLS ATHENS (ACA)

2nd International Interathenian Conference

21 - 22 - 23 November 2022

«Man and his Creations, foresighting the Future»

The 2nd International Interathenian Conference with the title "Man and his Creations", foresighting the Future is organized by ACA, two years after the successful 1st International Interathenian Conference, aiming to investigate the effect of all modern creations and discoveries on the future development of Mankind. The 2nd Conference will be on line, like the 1st conference, utilizing the power of internet to unit Athens of the world.

The vision of ACA

The initiative with the title "Athens call Athens" (ACA in brief) is a network to develop synergies at social, cultural, developmental and research level and to create ties between cities bearing the name "Athens" on a global scale. The network may establish branches in Greece and abroad, to collaborate with companies, universities and institutes around the world that bare the same or similar purpose.

All the activities of ACA focus on the culture and the promotion of the city of Athens as a cultural capital of all Athens around the world, through the creation of an international network, which will promote, develop and optimize the quality characteristics of institutions and people. The societies between the cities that bear the name Athens as well as the nickname Athens are the nuclei of formation, promotion and diffusion of the values of ACA.

The achievement of this vision is pursued through the following operational axes:

1. Creation of three pillars for the promotion of Greek culture in cities around the world under the name "Athens", as a title or as an appellation through:

- Creating education and training programs
- Enhancing tourist exchanges and experiences
- Distribution of products of added nutritional value under the label "Athens calls Athens"

2. Development of a communication network with these cities, which will be supported by strong alliances of educational, touristic and commercial partners.

3. Transformation of the values of Greek culture into a universal idea, which will be symbolized by the name "Athens" in the areas of culture, politics, history, philosophy and nutrition.

Who can participate?

The 2nd International Interathenian Conference of ACA is addressed to professors, researchers and students of cities bearing the name or appellation Athens around the World but also to the entire Greek and international academic community as well as to executives of private sector companies.

Objective of the Conference

The purpose of the conference is to create a Human Observatory which will function as a universal meeting place where collectives and individuals will circulate both their research work and their professional experiences. Additionally, the conference aims at establishing a permanent scientific working group, which will study on an ongoing basis the cultural and social evolution of Man.

Thematic Sessions

These are some of the issues to be addressed at the conference on the "Man and his Creations: foresighting the future"

1. Sustainable Development:

Sustainable development is the quest for new resources that will replace the ones that have been over-exploited, endangering our natural biotic systems. At what extent is the ability of future generations compromised by the present to meet their own needs? Are the new resources of equal or even greater carrying capacity for social, political and economic growth? Is sustainable development tangible, measurable and equitable without any geographical or cultural boundaries? Are the present generations able to regenerate, maintain and improve the planetary resources for the future generations? Should Mankind develop innovation or go back to the traditional approaches when there was a balance of economic, social and environmental resources? What is the road map to reach the goals of sustainable development, is there a consolidated chart?

2. Cultural Internationalization

The importance of Cultural Heritage is upon the symbolic and economic sustenance, the essence and dignity of the human life. Is also intertwined with identity and territory, where individuals and communities are often in competition or outright conflict. Conflicts may occur over issues of indigenous land and cultural property rights, or between ethnic minorities and dominant majorities disputing the right to define and manage the cultural heritage of the minority. We observe suppression of intangible manifestations of culture, such as language, dress, and ritual, or the outright physical destruction of material objects and buildings. A phenomenon of globalization? Also, in our turbulent times, we witness the movement of a large number of people over vast territories, migrations due to hostilities. Do participants of diasporas have a stake in the heritage issues of the homeland, and if so, should such considerations extend to their descendants?

3. Climate Crisis and Natural Disasters

The rise in global warming is a fact that leads to a climate crisis. Could this global crisis historically be the biggest challenge to internationalize government cooperation before climate chaos becomes the new reality? At the moment the planet is going through a climate crisis or is it in the process of permanent climate change? Natural disasters disrupt national economies with significant impact on people and communities of today and tomorrow. Can the drafting and implementation of emergency plans improve the effectiveness of prevention, preparedness and response systems? The rational use of energy with the use of new materials and means for the gradual decarbonation process, the connection of sustainable and multi-modal urban mobility with wider urban regeneration interventions, waste management, water management, could lead us to a neutral climate balance?

Kind regards,

For Athens calls Athens
